

Benchmarking Roundtable 3-day Bootcamp

Topic: Business Excellence

Background & Rationale:

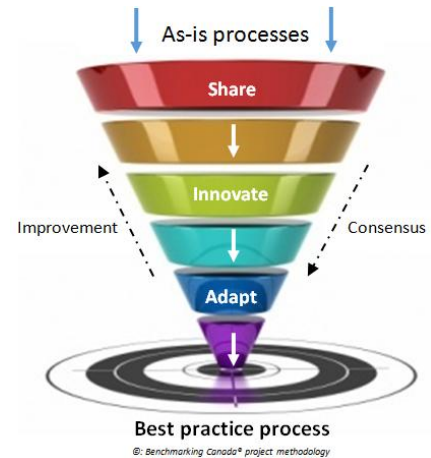

Over 90 countries have Business excellence frameworks at national level, typically under the patronage of the country's highest authority. Research has linked profitability and growth to the effective implementation of business excellence frameworks. Yet, many organizations are unable to extract the maximum benefit from these proven models. Adoption of the national business excellence frameworks is mostly treated as an image building exercise instead of focussing on the need for embedding excellence in the corporate culture. It tends to become an exercise geared towards satisfying the assessment criterion instead of embracing and adopting it holistically. What is your experience in implementing business excellence frameworks? Are you interested in enhancing innovation, customer satisfaction, employee morale and your organizational efficiency and effectiveness?

Join the Business Excellence Benchmarking Roundtable bootcamp and realize the true potential of this powerful catalyst for continuous improvement, change and growth.
